THE GOOD OLD TIMES.

M. Quad Tells of the Boyhood of Twenty-Five Years Ago.

How Homes Were Furnished in Those Days—"Johnny Cake"—and "Apple Sass"—Amusements—Schools.

[Detroit Free Press.]

I wish a dozen times a week that I was a boy of to-day, but never once do I wish to be set back to the boyhood of twenty-five years ago. I presume there was considerable difference between the boys living in cities and those dwelling in towns or living on farms—I mean in the matter of dress and privileges, but it was lonesome enough to be a boy anywhere.

What was home? Well, the very rich had carpets, cane-seat chairs and a melodeon and "kept a hired girl," but the commonly well off people had rag carpets on the parlor floors and the others went bare. Splint or flag-bottom chairs were thought good enough and the dollar chromos of to-day would have been considered fit for the parlor of the richest man in the village. Wall paper had scarcely been heard of, and all furniture was of the plainest description. All the beds of those days had cords and a straw tick, and all boys up to 14 or 15 years of age slept in trundle-beds. It was seldom that a common family lighted more than one candle of an evening; this furnished the light for all. It was something extra when two candles were allowed, and the sight of three or four burning at once in one house would have created the greatest astonishment outside.

What was our living? One meal was almost the counterpart of another. In a village of 500 inhabitants perhaps three families could afford wheat bread, but it was "johnny cake" with all the rest week in and week out. Fresh meats came at rare intervals, and salt pork filled the gap. The average meal was johnny cake, salt pork, potatoes, apple "sass," a very crude sort of pie, and weak tea or barley coffee. Mind you, the children got no warm drinks, and though almost every body kept a cow the milk was saved for pudding. While butter was not more than 6 cents per pound, the children were expected to eat gravy in place of it; and while eggs might be had for 5 cents a dozen they were looked upon as a luxury. Up to the time when a boy was 14 he had no chair at the table, but stood up to eat. It was a rare thing for a young person to give a party, or for young people to be found at lectures or exhibitions. The rule was to force them into bed soon after dark. At the age of 15 I had never seen a show of any sort, nor had anything of the kind ever been in the village. Had there been one every week it would have done us boys no good.

How did we dress? Well, the oldest son had rather the best show. Father's wornout clothes were ripped, dyed over and made up anew for him. The rest of us had to take our chances when a "store order" was traded out. Ever mother was a tailor and she cut the clothes according to her own ideas. The pantaloons might be too short, but never too long. If the coat happened to fit it was all right; if not the boy had to wear it just the same.

It was considered a sin to let boys wear boots or shoes during the summer. Therefore from May to October all boys went barefoot even to church. A pair of cowhide boots were good enough for anybody's boy, and a 6-shilling cloth cap fitted him out for headgear.

What amusements did we have? In the towns and villages the boys had their games for Saturday afternoon, but during the rest of the weeks were expected to put in their spare time at the wood pile or in the garden. On a farm it was not more than twice a year that a boy got a half day off. The idea of most parents seemed to be to prevent their boys from having a good time. If a lad could not be loaded down with enough work to keep his spirits in check there were plenty of women in the neighborhood to tell him to his face that they expected to live to see him hung for murder.

As to family government, the old-time father was supposed to be infallible. He could not take his son's life, but he could come very near it and escape even censure. The boys were not requested, but ordered, to do this and that. I can remember many fathers who made it a practice to keep "gads" in the house. About once in so long they made a trip to the woods to cut blue-beech and hickory switches, and these were laid by to season. The boy who did not receive a "licking" once a week felt that something dreadful was about to happen in that community. It was considered the correct thing to "tan his jacket" on general principles. Many parents reasoned that unless a boy was thrashed about once in so often he would be pretty certain to go to the bad.

Our school advantages? In the villages we had but one school for all sizes and ages, and when a boy had so far progressed that he could "read, write and cipher," he was considered fairly educated. The schoolmasters knew but little more, and seemed to take more pleasure in punishing a scholar than in encouraging him over a hard lesson.

What show was there for a boy to get a start in life? None at all, compared to the chances of to-day. If he started out to learn a trade he was bound like a slave, treated little better than one, and paid almost nothing. Instead of a human being, he was a drudge. If he worked by the day he must do a dollar's worth of labor for a shilling, simply because he was boy. When I look back and remember how the boys of that age were treated—how little they had to encourage them—what few chances offered—I wonder that so many turned out so well.

Mistook Her for a Dummy.

[Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.]

At the entrance to one of the prominent dry-goods stores on Federal street, Allegheny, recently a lady, remarkable for the wax-like appearance of her complexion, stood waiting for a car. A young man, accompanied by two ladies, passed in and came out in a few minutes. The lady was still standing like a statue in the same position. The young man said, "Now just look at this," and raised his hand and struck the supposed figure a smart slap on the cheek. The statue turned a pair of flashing black eyes on him and wilted him with a look. He stammered incoherently: "I—I—thought you were a dummy," and almost ran away, allowing his companions to follow as best they could.

Tweed as a Waltzer.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

The other day a lady, speaking of her New York experiences, said that among other things which she had done was to waltz with Boss Tweed. "Waltzed with Boss Tweed!" said I in surprise, for I had never associated Tweed in my fancy with anything like waltzing. "Yes, waltzed with Boss Tweed and I can tell you that I never had a better partner. He was one of the best waltzers it was ever my good fortune to meet, and he seemed to take a keen interest in his dancing."

A southern newspaper the other day spoke of the need of a "pluvial dispensation," and was obliged to tell its readers in its next issue that it meant rain.

A BRITISH gunboat has planted the British flag at Durnford, on the coast of Zanzibar, to show that it is British possession.

THE receipts of the Canadian Pacific railway for the week ending Dec. 21st were $105,000, as compared with $37,000 in the corresponding period last year, showing an increase of $38,000.

ENGLAND has secured Italy's adhesion to her Egyptian policy, in return for the support by Great Britain to Italy's scheme for the colonizing on the Red sea.

THE silver jubilee of Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto, was consecrated last week by Pontifical High Mass. Congratulory addresses and testimonials were presented to His Grace, and a banquet at the Rossin house in the evening.

WHAT was stated in THE TIMES a few weeks ago as might probably be the date of the meeting of parliament, has been announced by Government as having been definitely fixed upon. The members have been called together for the 29th inst.

THE Czar of Russia is reported to be paving the way for a tremendous dynamite explosion. He continues to ignor liberal ideas and is perpetuating the old autocratic ideas. The divinity that doth not hedge on the Czar will be no deterrent to the desperate plots of the Nihilists.

LABOUCHERE has turned his attention to Canada, which, he says, is only fit for Eskimo and Polar bears. But Labouchere's knowledge of Canada is very probably on a par with that of one of the law lords of the Privy Council who was not certain whether British Columbia was in Canada or Canada in British Columbia.

LONDON has a sewage question which casts that of Victoria into the shade. Ninety-six million gallons of sewage are daily poured into the Thames, and the river is becoming simply a huge sewage tank. There is an absence of unanimity as to the disposal of the filth. It is estimated that for fertilizing purposes it is worth $10,000,000 a year, but how to utilize it is the problem.

A TELEGRAM has been received by the Governor-General that another Canadian with the Egyptian expedition has been drowned. His name is John E. Faulkner, and he came from Peterborough, Ont. The accident took place between Dongola and Ambukol, the young man, who was only twenty-seven years of age, falling out of the boat. Owing to the swiftness of the rapid rescue was impossible.

A ROYAL commission is investigating the affairs of the city of Winnipeg. An affidavit of E. M. Wood, the late solicitor, was read showing that Barber, the architect of the new civic offices, had "approached" him and wished to retain service. He concludes by asserting that the whole contract was a swindle for which innocent parties are now suffering. Other startling revelations will be made, and it will probably be shown that New York, under Boss Tweed, was not worse governed that the infant of the prairies.

WOODEN nutmegs and wooden hams are often spoken of as products of the Eastern States, but the statement is generally made as a joke. The Mail is informed, however, that a Hartford, Conn., man has 160 of the former on exhibition at New Orleans. He is the first who ever made them, and sold a large number at the Philadelphia exhibition. They are so natural as to deceive even old dealers in spices, being wrapped up with the article until they acquire the odour. It would be interesting to the general public to know whether the manufacture is carried on for trade as well as exhibition purposes.

THE present season is a profitable one for the Canadian and American exports of apples to Great Britain. One shipment from Annapolis county, N. S., amounted to 50,000 barrels. Prices have been remunerative, but the better quality of Canadian apples has secured for them much better prices than American shipments could secure. We give the current prices per barrel for the benefit of our fruit culturists:—

	United States	Canadian
Baldwin	$2.16 to $3.36	$2.40 to 3.66
Greenings	2.40 to 3.12	2.64 to 3.30
Fallawater	2.58 to 2.82	2.64 to 3.30
N. Spy	2.16 to 3.24	2.76 to 3.84
Spitz	2.32 to 3.12	2.64 to 3.60
Phœnix	2.70	2.62 to 3.30

THE SCOTT ACT.

The local option law, known as the Scott Act, has been adopted by a large number of the counties of Ontario. The discussion of the question of partial prohibition has filled the papers of the province for months past. One phase of the movement is thus referred to by Mr. Goldwin Smith:—

"It seems rather hard that a restriction should be placed upon everybody's private tastes, and that everybody's house should be, as it is in Vermont, laid open to the domiciliary visits of the familiars of a temperance inquisition, because a few commercial travellers choose to keep up a foolish fashion, and their employers have not strength of mind enough to interfere. We are drawing a cork with a steam engine of the most cumberous and expensive kind. After all, will the cork be drawn? Will the sample room be reformed by the Scott Act? "W. F. C." admits that the Act is "clumsy." But experience seems to show that it is worse than clumsy, that it substitutes the contraband for the license system, and thereby increases that secret drinking of which the sample room is a specimen, and which, notoriously, is of all kinds of indulgence the worst. Can it be shown that intemperance is so prevalent and so much upon the increase in Canada as to call for extreme measures? If it can, the "Bystander" has always said, let extreme measures be adopted as in case of plague or war; only let them be thoroughgoing, effective, consistent with public justice, and the same for the rich as for the poor. In the meantime, he ventures to advocate the inspection of liquor, an unpretending measure, but one which would perhaps do more than is supposed to prevent the growth of the fatal craving. On one point he most heartily concurs with what seems to be the opinion of "W. F. C." The Legislature is bound to settle this question for the whole country; to leave the settlement to local agitation is an unworthy subterfuge. Such a device bears no analogy to the submission of a constitutional amendment to the popular vote; in that case the Legislature initiates; in this case the initiation is left to some irregular and irresponsible caucus which is always lying in wait, and when it has manipulated a constituency to its satisfaction, snaps a vote, general disturbance and uncertainty prevailing in the meantime; while the practical result is a country chequered over with contradictory systems, and in which the free counties wage war by a line of frontier taverns on the morals of their prohibited neighbors. But to speak of the Legislature is to touch the rotten part of the whole crusade. The politicians of the House of Commons shut up their own bar in deference to the temperance vote, and then run across the building to refresh themselves at the bar of the Senate."

THE ORIENTAL TRADE.

The Globe criticises a speech made by Hon. J. Carling, in which that gentleman dealt with the trade that would be done with Japan and China over the C. P. railway, and ridicules as the dream of a visionary, the hope entertained that a large and profitable trade can ever be established. It says that the total quantity of tea which came into the United States during the year ending June 30th, 1883, was 37,577,349 lbs. from China, and 34,441,455 lbs. from Japan. The total quantity exported to all countries in the same year was only 3,881,219 lbs., of which 3,450,069 went into Canada east of the Rocky Mountains, and 107,781 lbs. came into British Columbia and New Foundland. And then upon those figures, which may or may not be accurate, the Globe proceeds to argue that as the people of Europe do not find it to their interest to buy their tea by the American transcontinental route, even if the distance should be shortened by three days the trade could not be diverted to the C. P. R. while the Suez canal is available. But the most absurd and untenable position is taken when it asserts: "But it would not do much good to the people of Canada generally, were a full train load of goods from or for Japan to pass over that road every day. It would do little good to our farmers, manufacturers, etc., even if several trains were employed every day in that trade." It may be "supreme folly" to calculate on a trade with the Orient; time will tell. But the assertion that no good would be done to the people of Canada were one or two trains employed every day in conveying goods to and fro, is a fallacy several degrees more supremely foolish.

THE RETURNING OFFICER.

Knowing as we do the delicacy of feeling and knowledge of right and wrong possessed by R. Nuttall, Esq., the gentleman selected by the council to be returning office for the city at the coming election, we do not for a moment imagine that that gentleman will condescend or attempt to fill the above position, in view of the fact of his editorship of The People, and his partisan avocacy therein of one of the candidates for Mayor, and what is termed the people's ticket for councilors. It is not advanced, or even hinted, that Mr. Nuttall would hold the scales between the contestants with other than a just and unswerving hand, but the circumstances in which the council on the one side and himself on the other hath placed him, gives people of base minds an opportunity to cast reflections on an officer who ought to be, and is, like Cæsar wife, "above suspicion." It is not the man that we object to, but the principle of any one taking these two position.

THE FRANCHISE.

The franchise bill will be again introduced at the coming session of Parliament. The qualification of voters will by it be made uniform in all the provinces. In the meantime it may not be out of place to state what the suffrage is in other countries:

Austria — All male persons paying $2.50 a year in taxes are qualified.

Hungary—All male citizens paying a small direct tax on land, or having an income varying with occupation, but running as low at $50 a year.

Belgium—Direct tax, $8 a year.

Denmark—Manhood suffrage.

France—Manhood suffrage.

German empire (Reichstag)—Manhood suffrage.

Great Britain—Under the present system, householders in boroughs, forty shillings free holders, holders of houses at twelve pounds a year in the country, and tenants at fifty pounds a year are entitled to a vote. This refers to England and Wales. Women who are qualified are entitled to vote in municipal elections. In Ireland and Scotland higher qualifications have been demanded. The new franchise bill greatly extends the right of suffrage.

Greece—Manhood suffrage.

Italy—Voters must pay $4 a year tax.

Portugal — Income qualification for citizens who are not heads of families.

Spain — Learned and privileged classes vote irrespective of property, others must pay land tax.

Sweden and Norway—Real estate or income qualification.

Switzerland—Manhood suffrage.

Brazil—$200 income.

United States, with the exception of one State—Manhood suffrage.

Japan—Qualification, $5 land tax.

New south Wales—Manhood suffrage.

New Zealand—$125 in real estate.

Queensland—Manhood suffrage.

South Australia — Manhood suffrage.

Victoria—Manhood suffrage.

To Contractors.

TENDERS will be received up to the 10th day of February next, for clearing, grading and bridging 20 miles of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway from Esquimalt northward.

Plans, specifications and bills of quantities can be seen at the Company's office, Victoria, B. C., where tenders are to be left.

Further information may be obtained on application to J. Hunter, Chief Engineer.

To the Electors of Johnson St. Ward.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the request of numerous ratepayers in Johnson Street Ward, I have consented to be nominated for Councillor for the ensuing year; in so doing I feel it incumbent upon me to express my views on some of the most important questions likely to occupy the attention of the Council during the ensuing year.

The first in importance is undoubtedly the unsanitary state of the city; as the city cannot be healthy without an efficient system of sewerage, constructed on correct and scientific principles. I shall support what may be considered the best digested system; as also the preliminaries and execution of such a work will occupy a considerable time, and independent of sewerage we must have surface drainage, I would, in the meantime, advocate a cheap system of gutters, which may be regularly flushed.

Next in importance is the matter of water supply, which at present is far from satisfactory, and has engendered a very large amount of delay in construction of a superior class of suburban buildings, and any steps taken to remove the disabilities under which we labor in this regard will also receive my hearty support.

Now, as regards light, I am of opinion that the city is not, nor never has been, sufficiently well lighted, so that all ratepayers derive an equal, or nearly equal, benefit from the expenditure under this heading. Any measure brought forward to secure the greatest amount of light at the smallest possible cost to the city, consistent with judicious expenditure, will have my entire co-operation.

Lastly as regards the "Revision of the Assessment Roll," I am firmly convinced that "excessive" taxation is as undesirable as the at present "unequal method," and that extreme measures in either direction are calculated to retard the much to be desired advancement of our city, and whilst avoiding inequality on the one hand, I shall, if elected, endeavor to avert anything that may appear to be unduly harsh or oppressive upon the prudent and thrifty taxpayer on the other hand. If elected, I shall do my best to promote the best interests of the city generally, and Johnson Street Ward in particular. I am, ladies and gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,
JOHN TEAGUE.

WITHIN SIXTY DAYS.

The C. P. R. from the Selkirks to Montreal to be Completed on March 10th.

Mr. W. C. VanHorne, Vice-President and General Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, told a reporter of the Globe that the work along the whole line was proceeding very rapidly. All engineering difficulties had been overcome, and the line from Montreal to the Selkirk mountains would be completed in eighty-five days from December 15th. By this calculation the road will be opened on Tuesday, the 10th of March next. When the line is opened, he continued, those gentlemen who have invented all sorts of imaginary engineering difficulties would have an opportunity of they chose to avail themselves of it to travel along the whole line by rail and examine for themselves, always provided that they paid their fare. There was now no hitch any where along the Rocky mountains, and the construction gangs were just entering the Selkirk range, and work was now going on on all the uncompleted sections of the road, and was proceeding satisfactorily.

The Terminus.

The selection of Coal Harbor as the western terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway is an accomplished fact. Mr. Charles Dunkwater, the secretary, informed a reporter of the Montreal Star "that all papers and documents relating to the British Columbia Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have been ratified by the board of directors, sealed and attested, and have been forwarded to their destination. Major Rogers will shortly commence to lay out the new line to Coal Harbor and clearing and grading will be pushed forward with vigor all winter. Hon. Donald Smith and Mr. R. B. Angus have been appointed trustees in whom the real estate will be vested and through whom the terminal bonds, agreements and titles will be issued. Coal Harbor, which has thus received the coveted honor, possesses an excellent port, accessible at all periods of the year." Messrs. Beatty and Hamilton yesterday arrived in Victoria and proceeded this morning to Coal Harbor. The work of locating and laying out the terminal city, construction of wharves, &c., will be proceeded with without delay. This will give employment to thousands of mechanics and laborers.

The C. P. R. St. Lawrence Bridge.

The proposed new Canadian Pacific Railway bridge at Lachine, the plan of which is under consideration of the Government department at Ottawa, will consist of twelve spans, eight of which will be two hundred and forty-two feet, two will be two hundred and seventy, and the remaining two four hundred and eight feet each, making a total of three thousand three hundred feet. The greater part of the bridge will consist of deck trusses, with the exception of the channel spans which will be built with lattice sides, thereby giving a view of the celebrated rapids, which commence at the side of the bridge. The foundation is solid rock. The cost will not exceed two and a half millions. A report circulated from the capital that the contract had been given to a New York firm is denied by Mr. Van-Horne, who says that tenders have not been called for yet.

NANAIMO NOTES.

There are two candidates in the field for the office of Mayor in Nanaimo, M. Bate, Esq., present Mayor, and Donald Smith, Esq., J. P. For Councilors there seems to be little or no competition, and no one in particular has yet been mentioned.

The snow has all disappeared from the town, and has been followed by a strong wind. Very likely a severe frost will accompany it.

Calendars for 1885.

T. N. Hibben & Co. have issued a neat calendar for 1885. The figures are conspicuous, an arrangement that is the essential feature about a convenient calendar. The printing was done by Mr. M. Miller, whose imprint is a guarantee of tasteful composition and excellent press work.

J. B. Ferguson & Co. are also to the front with a remarkably fine "day indicator" in a similar though larger form to above. It is ornamented with a handsome colored lithograph. Our stationers are determined to keep the public "up to time," as they have all, with commendable enterprise, issued calendars that are useful as well as ornamental.

Our Trade with San Francisco.

The amount of the exports from San Francisco to British Columbia, and imports from that province are given as under by the Commercial News: From the 1st of January to the 31st of October the amount of merchandise shipped to British Columbia reached $1,159,359, a decrease of $251,284 from the corresponding period of 1883. The exports from British Columbia to San Francisco for the eight months of 1884 amounted to $1,186,955, being an increase of $488,221 over the same months of last year.

Commutation Asked For.

The Ottawa Sun says: A petition is to be presented to the Governor General asking that the death sentence passed upon Charles Rodgers, for murdering a brother guard named Sterry, in the New Westminster, B. C., penitentiary, be commuted to imprisonment for life. Rodgers was sentenced to be hanged on 28th January. Those who have taken the matter up state that the evidence given at the trial showed that the crime was not premeditated, but was the outburst of sudden anger.

AN EXTENSIVE MAIL.

One Hundred and Fifty Sacks Arrive Here To-day—Seven Hundred Sacks to Reach Tacoma Sunday.

FREIGHT MOVING WESTWARD.

A very large amount of mail matter was received at the postoffice in this city by the steamer Geo. E. Starr this afternoon, it being estimated at 150 sacks. The mail was thrown aboard the Starr at Tacoma last night without the number of sacks being taken, hence the mail clerk on the boat did not know how much he brought, but thought there were from 130 to 150 sacks in all. It filled two mail cars when it arrived in Tacoma, and the estimate of the mail agent is, therefore, in all probability not far out of the way. The postal authorities at Tacoma were notified yesterday that

SEVEN HUNDRED SACKS

Of mail would reach that place to-morrow. Of this amount there are, perhaps, about 300 sacks, or more, for British Columbia. It is understood the North Pacific will bring a large amount to-morrow, and the Starr on Sunday, it is thought, will bring over one hundred sacks. Latest reports from along the line of the Northern Pacific are to the effect that there are a number of cars of freight, mostly bonded, consigned to British Columbia parties, many cars having been side-tracked as far east as Bismarck, Dakota, while there are also a number of bonded cars standing at Helena, Montana, Glendive and Missoula. Many of them have been at some of the above mentioned stations for three weeks, and are just commencing to MOVE WESTWARD.

Consequently it will be several days yet before much of the delayed freight may be expected in Victoria. The cars having been scattered along the Northern Pacific line from Sprague, W. T., to Fargo, Dakota, there is no danger of an unusually large amount being received here on any one boat, as the freight trains will all commence to move westward about the same time.

Gold Mining.

A letter from Columbia Crossing, B. C., dated November 20, to Montreal, says: Some two months ago Mr. Evans, proprietor of the Carnarvon Herald and correspondent of the Graphic, was up here on a professional and prospecting tour. On his departure he took with him some quartz from one of the mines in the neighborhood and had it assayed at Montreal. His agent here has recently received a letter from him in Wales, stating that the assay at Montreal was satisfactory, and asking the agent to forward some more rock to Swansea. If this should turn out satisfactorily, it is Mr. Evans' intention to float a joint stock company to work the mine in which he is interested. One hundreds pounds of quartz bearing gold and silver, taken from the Isabella mine, have been shipped to Swansea as requested. A few days since a rough assay was made of some quartz taken from claims adjacent to the Isabella, the result showing $100 of silver, with some gold, to the ton.

No More Money Needed.

Mr. Geo. Stephen, of the C. P. R., before leaving England told a Globe correspondent that the company's shares were being gradually absorbed by investors, and bearing in mind the recent course of events in the American market, they had done quite as well as they had any reason to expect. They had no more stock to put upon the market, and were not likely to have. It was pretty well admitted now by all who were competent to form an opinion upon the question, that the Government loan would amply suffice for the completion of the line. The 100,000 shares which had been held as security for the £1,000,000 borrowed by the Company in connection with the purchase of the Government's annuity a year ago have been sold at the market price. This matter settled, no stock is left for issue. The Company's relations with the Grand Trunk continue of a friendly character, though "you may say if you like," added Mr. Stephen, "that there is no foundation for the rumor that we are about to lease the Grand Trunk." This referred to an absurd canard in circulation some few days ago to the effect that some such arrangement was being negotiated.

The Laws in Olden Times.

There were some severe laws in the world two centuries ago, but apparently no more morality than now. There was a time when a Bob Ingersoll would have been imprisoned for life, even if he escaped burning at the stake. By statute, in the time of Elizabeth, the jolly old blonde, if any persons in plays or songs, or by casual conversation, said anything in derogation of the book of common prayer, he was liable to suffer imprisonment for life. In 1650 adultery was made a capital crime, and also the repeated acts of keeping a brothel were made felony without the benefit of clergy. High treason was punished by being hanged by the neck and then cut down alive, after which the entrails were taken out and burned while the victim still lived. Then his head was cut off and his body divided into four parts. In 1702 Haagen Swendsen was hanged because he induced a young, rich widow named Mrs. Pleasant Raw to marry him, and his friend, Mrs. Boynton, narrowly escaped the same fate.—Chicago Herald.

MARINE NOTES.

The U. S. revenue cutter Richard Rush came into port this afternoon.

The steamer Lottie arrived last night from San Juan Island, with a cargo of produce.

The ship Peru arrived in the Roads yesterday from Montevideo, from whence she sailed Oct. 12th.

The tug Woodside arrived from Departure Bay to-day, bringing down the barge Maud, with 250 tons of coal aboard.

The German bark Magne left the Roads this morning for the Sound under sail. She loads lumber at Tacoma.

The Alexander this morning took the ship John DeCosta and bark Pacific Slope to sea. They are both loaded with lumber and go to Australia.

Too Much Flour.

Returns from the Custom House at Kootenay show that during the two months from 15th Sept. to 15th Nov. 3730 gallons of whisky were brought into that district, the value of which is $11,157. Now, on referring to the list of voters for Kootenay we find they number just 30, and of these probably there are not more than 15 who are really entitled to vote. It would seem, therefore, that the whisky consumed each year in Kootenay amounts to 22,380 gallons, worth $66,942, which would be 1492 gallons for each voter. It is stated that during the same period two mule-loads of flour were brought into Kootenay district, but we are puzzled to know what they wanted with so much flour.—Columbian.

CITY COUNCIL.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held at 3 o'clock p. m., to-day.

Present—Mayor Carey, Councilors Vigelius, Wriglesworth, Porter, J. Robertson, and W. A. Robertson.

The financial statement for the year was submitted; also the Auditor's report. The latter showed a surplus of over $600, and a quantity of broken rock, which at $3 would bring the surplus up to over $6000.

Councilor Vigelius—"It seems we have come out ahead, after all."

Mayor Carey said that all the debts had been paid, and not left for the next Council, and still there was a surplus.

Councilor Wriglesworth said that this was the close of his fourth year, and in moving the adoption of the report, he would say that he was very glad that the Council could make such a showing after all the abuse which had been received.

The question of using the surplus in purchasing the electric light was then considered.

Councilor W. A. Robertson was very agreeably disappointed at the showing of the council, and he thought that some of the "upper ten" would be disagreeably disappointed at the satisfactory showing. He seconded the motion which was then carried.

Councilor Wriglesworth suggested that a parting shot and in order to show the press that they could forgive the abuse which had been given them during the year, the council should publish the financial statement in the five papers. He moved a motion to this effect which was seconded by Councilor Vigelius and carried.

It was resolved on motion of Councilor W. A. Robertson, to rent Philharmonic Hall for a public meeting.

NEWS NOTES.

The official report on the earthquake states that 900 lives were lost in Granada.

The remarks of Gladstone's son at Hawarden are understood to indicate his father retiring from party politics at the end of the present session.

The extremely low price of wheat has caused a falling off in the receipts in the North-West of fully 80 per cent. compared with 15 days ago. It is rumored that the big millers have got hold of nearly all the good hard wheat in Dakota and the Red River valley, and are holding it until spring.

The first colony of Jews in New York arrived in 1620; the city at that time being under the rule of the Dutch, who gave it the name of New Amsterdam. In 1706 the first Jewish congregation was formed. They built the first synagogue in 1721. In 1844 there were four synagogues; in 1854 there were twenty, and at present there are at least forty in New York. The whole number of Jewish houses of worship in the United States is about 350.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Reginald Nuttall, of "The People," is quite ill at present.

Mr. Richard Pollack, of London, England, is at the Driard, having arrived yesterday.

Mr. N. Shakespeare, M. P., will leave on Monday morning en route to Ottawa.

Messrs. H. Beatty and L. A. Hamilton left on the Princess Louise this morning for the Mainland.

It is understood that Hon. J. W. Trutch will leave this city for Ottawa on Monday next.

Mr. J. Oppenheimer was registered at one of the Portland hotels on Tuesday last.

Mr. Thos. W. Jenkins, of Portland, and Mr. A. P. Peck, of the same place, are registered at the Oriental.

Mr. M. J. Carkeek, contractor for the new jail at New Westminster, is in the city, located at the Oriental.

The Delayed Passengers.

The blockaded passengers who arrived here yesterday tell some amusing incidents which occurred during their trip westward. Among those who were delayed are Messrs. H. Beatty, Hamilton and R. Pollack, all three of whom are stopping at the Driard. Mr. Pollack was detained at Sprague, W. T., for seven days and at other places for several days, which made the trip from St. Paul to Portland a long and tiresome one. Passengers on the first train which was blockaded were detained nineteen days. They were compelled, at times, to do their own cooking and considered themselves very fortunate in having something to cook. The gentlemen who arrived here yesterday express the opinion that it is impracticable to construct snow sheds at the point where the blockade occurred, as the track is located at the foot of a high mountain and should the snow drift and slide down, as was the case during the recent trouble, it would be impossible for a shed to withstand such weight. However, such an occurrence, may not take place again for many years to come.

An Eminent Lawyer Dead.

The death of Mr. James Bethune, Esq., Q. C., one of the leading members of the Ontario Bar, is announced. The deceased gentleman has for many years occupied a prominent position, and his name was associated as counsel with a large proportion of the most important law suits in Eastern Canada. In the celebrated case of Caldwell vs. McLaren, in which provincial rights were involved, he conducted the case to a successful issue through all the courts of the Dominion, and finally to the Privy Council. He was at one time a member of the Ontario Legislature, but he had no love for partizan conflict. He was still comparatively a young man.

Chinese Gambling.

The Chinese who were arrested in November last, and charged with gambling, came before the court this morning. Ah Pow, in whose case sentence had been reserved, was fined $50 or two months imprisonment. Ah Sue then pleaded guilty and was fined $25 or one month. The charge against the others for being present in a gambling house was withdrawn. Mr. Helmcken defended the prisoners.

Bismarck's Views.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The Reichstag reassembled to-day. During the debate on the budget estimates for the ministry, the interior immigration question was discussed at length. Boetticher, Minister of the Interior, stated that the immigration law was still in embryo. Bismarck replied that the new tariff had resulted in bettering the condition of the people. That previously there had been a more extensive emigration which high parish rates had augmented. Reichter said many emigrants were men engaged in the tobacco industry and were from poor districts. Bismarck showed those classes of poor native laborers required further protection. He said small proprietors emigrate because they were unable to profit by their labor. He proposed to alleriate their burdens by raising the duties of corn. This view of the matter, he said, was shared by the farmers. Replying further to Reichter and Rickert, Bismarck, summing up his views, said Germany was a nation of farmers and required duties on corn. Property was not only the excuse of emigration and some people, provided they had means, emigrated in order to improve their position. Germany should be able to grow the corn she consumed, if the condition of the farming industry should be improved by an increase of duties on corn. He objected to everything that went wrong with Germany being laid at his door. He appealed to the country to judge between himself and Reichter.

More Earthquakes.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Earthquake shocks have been felt at Embrun and Chambry, and other points in the provinces of Hauta.

Heavy Damages.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Madame Clovis Hughs was acquitted of the murder of Morin, but was condemned to pay four thousand dollars damages and costs of trial.

An Important Trial.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The court room during the Hughs trial to-day was so crowded that people sat at the feet of the judges, something unprecedented in the criminal or other trials in the French courts. Anxious attendants upon the case even seated themselves beneath the tables of lawyers, so eager were they to listen to every word of evidence and argument presented to the court. The toilets of the ladies were of a brilliant description, and contributions from gardens and hot houses gave the court room somewhat of the appearance of a conservatory. Mme. Hughs admitted in her testimony that she would have killed Mme. Lenormond or her private agent, Clerger, but for the fact that both of those persons had said they were not responsible for the calumnies which had been heaped upon her. The presiding judge, in his charge, said the cards which had been sent Hughs were of such an indecent character as to justify him in preventing them being read in the court room but they would be laid before the jury for their consideration. In summing up the evidence an exciting dialogue occurred between Mme. Hughs and the judge. His honor said Morin did not write the objectionable cards which excited Mme. Hughs to the fatal assault upon him. To this prisoner insisted they were dictated by Morin and challenged any one to find a person who did write them. Morin's mistress, a prominent witness, swore that Morin had only repeated what had been related to him about Mme. Hughs. Anatole, member of the Chamber of Deputies, in addressing the court, was emphatic in his praise of the action of Mme. Hughs and so vehement in his declaration, that the judge considered it his duty to impose a severe rebuke on the advocate. The addresses to the jury were of considerable length, and the verdict of acquittal was returned at a late hour in the morning. The announcement of "not guilty" was a signal for tremendous applause. The popular sympathy for Mme. Hughs was demonstrated by vociferous shouts and cheering.

The Trembling Country.

MADRID, Jan. 9. Fifteen hundred persons have left Granada. The people are generally of the opinion that the end of the world is at hand, and are seeking absolution from the priests. The village of Quejar is slowly sliding down toward the valley.

The Irish Agitator.

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—Parnell addressed a meeting at Tipperary to-day. Four years ago, he said, the men of Tipperary beheld him unfurl the banner of the League. There the movement became historical and had proved of great service to the Irish people. A similar point in the history of Ireland has now been reached and what agitation had already gained was infinitessimally small compared with full reward to be secured by it. Parnell said he believed the great power of the franchise recently conferred would be industriously used.

No Assistance Desired.

Special dispatch to THE TIMES.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9.—At a meeting, which was called for the purpose of determining whether outside aid should be solicited, with which to carry on the world's fair, now being held in this city, the mayor said it would be an everlasting disgrace to New Orleans, if its citizens allowed the exposition to receive assistance from any outside source.

THE "TISSUE PAPER RACKET."

The Originator of That Brilliant Idea in "Confidence" Card Playing.

[New York Times.]

"'Red Shirt' was a product of life among the Pennsylvania coal mines, and when not engaged in working railway trains he made things expensive for the rural visitors at county fairs. He was the originator of the brilliant idea in cards known as the 'tissue paper racket.' His favorite role was that of a man bored to death with the monotony of riding on a railroad, who was anxious to find congenial partners for a social game at euchre. In those days the newsboy with his cards and lapboard to hire to passengers had not made his appearance on our railroads, and card-playing to pass the time was comparatively a new thing. Red Shirt, who would readily have been taken for the easy-going son of a wealthy father, overburdened with both time and money, always had a dainty, brand new pack of cards in his valise, and he seldom had to wait long to get up a game, and he rarely failed to manage to select players who 'had blood in them.' The game of euchre seldom progressed far before Red Shirt would say, in a careless, off-hand way, and apparently speaking more to himself than to anyone else:

"'By Jove! this'd be a beauty of a hand in a little game of draw!'

"Whenever Red Shirt reached that stage of the game you could make pretty big bets that his hand wasn't the only one around the board that would be a 'beauty in a game of draw' and that other hand never failed in being four aces, cold. The man who held that hand never failed to be just game enough to remark that his hand loomed up pretty fair for a poker hand, too. Then Red Shirt wouldn't say anything more about it, but make out as if he was about to proceed with the euchre game. Now, a man with four aces in his hand, who has had the value of hands as regards poker suggested to him, is not a true-born American citizen if he sacrifices it at euchre, and nobody knew this fact better than Red Shirt. The man with the four aces would invariably propose that they test the value of the two hands in the usual way. Red Shirt would at first prefer not to bet, but finally would back his hand. The other man would raise him, of course. And so it would go, back and forth, until it suited Red Shirt to bring the matter to a close, when he would call his opponent.

"'Four aces!' that lucky person would say.

"'What!' Red Shirt would exclaim, excitedly. 'Let's see 'em!'

"The man would throw his cards down. Red Shirt, picking them up, would run them over quickly, and then rubbing his thumb on one of the ace cards would shave off a covering that revealed two more spots, making it a tray spot.

"'Look here, my friend,' he would say, indignantly, 'I thought I was playing with gentlemen. You can't run in any of your Chicago tricks on me!'

"Then he would throw down a hand that always beat three of a kind, and before the others recovered from their astonishment the money would be in his possession, and he would make a break for the car door. He never failed to time his play with the movements of the train, and when the climax came the cars would be slowing up for a station. It was no trick at all for him to get off a train moving fifteen or twenty miles an hour, and he never got caught but once that I know of. Then he was followed close by his victim, and they both got off the train together. Red Shirt was given a most beautiful trouncing, but the man did not get his money—about $500. It happened that as Red Shirt was hurrying out of the car he met John Baily on the platform coming in, and quick as a flash he passed the money, all crumpled up in a wad in his hand, to John. Red Shirt made thousands of dollars during his career, but he died in a Pennsylvania poor-house of consumption a few years ago. I think his name was Brown.

The Navy Yard a Vegetable Garden.

[Washington Capital.]

I hear some very good stories about the Norfolk navy yard and its commandant, whose predilection for live stock is the subject of many good jokes among naval men. I was told by a young "sea dog," not long since, "that the yard had been converted into a rural paradise." Hogs, cows, chickens and turkeys roam at large among the awful implements of war. A small island near the yard is devoted to agriculture, and all the vegetables for the officers' mess are grown on this piece of public domain. Praiseworthy economy, isn't it? It is a standing joke that the commandant is feeding up his hundred or more turkeys for the purpose of mounting the marines and drilling them in cavalry practice.

The funniest thing of all happened a few weeks ago. Two of his cows got loose one dark night and started out for a lark. They took it into their bovine heads to run a race along the main avenue of the yard. A sentry stationed about the middle of the avenue heard the noise, and, with his mind full of general uprisings and bloody massacres, timidly called out "halt," but the noise drew nearer to him. His knees began to knock together and his hair to stand on end. He wildly shrieked for the corporal of the guard. The whole force turned out and with great difficulty captured the breakers of the peace. When the cows were brought to bay the men didn't know whether to laugh or swear. They did a little of both and were satisfied. I tell you the navy should certainly be well supported when its men have nothing better to do than herd cows and attend to the wants of live stock generally.

A Very Narrow Escape.

[Chicago Herald.]

Three or four tug men were relating some of their experiences. All the ghost, murder and explosion stories had been told, and then a grizzly old captain took a fresh chaw of tobacco and observed:

"The narrowest escape I ever see was that of a man who came here in the hold of a vessel loaded with pig iron. He cropt into the boat when she was empty and went to sleep, and when they came to load her they covered him up with the iron. I suppose there wasn't less than 500 tons of the stuff on top of him, and he was in that position for seven or eight days with nothing to eat or drink. When they got down to him they took him out, and a more surprised lot of dock wollopers you never see."

"How did he work it?" was asked.

"Work what?"

"Why, how did he escape being crushed?"

"He was crushed. He was as flat and thin as that there sail."

"I don't see where the narrow escape comes in then," said the linsman.

"Well, I do," continued the narrator, "and so would you if you had seen them just take him out through a seam in the side of the boat."

Then the meeting broke up.

New York Tid-Bits: Young hopeful (who has been reprimanded for not washing his face)—Boo-h-oo! I wish I was a nigger boy!

Mamma—A negro boy! What for George?

Young hopeful—Why, I—I—shouldn't have to w-wash then, 'cause the d-dirt wouldn't show!

A Chinese Duel.

[Chicago Herald.]

Two Chinamen in Mercer county, California, who had agreed to fight a duel to settle some difficulty, worked together all one forenoon to build a coffin. After completing their work they met, armed with revolvers, in a field, and one blew the head of the other off. The neighbors who had seen them make the coffin then knew what it was for.

A Great Problem.

—Take all the Kidney and Liver Medicines,
—Take all the Blood purifiers,
—Take all the Rheumatic remedies,
—Take all the Dyspepsia and indigestion cures,
—Take all the Ague, Fever, and billious specifics,
—Take all the Brain and Nerve force restorers,
—Take all the great health restorers,
—In short, take all the best qualities of all those, and the best Qualities of all the best medicines in the world, and you will find that Hop Bitters have the best curative qualities and powers of all combined and concentrated in them, and that they will cure when any or all of these, singly or combined will fail. A thorough trial will give positive proof of this.

2. Hardened Liver.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheumatism. Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone away from liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case, otherwise I would have been now in my grave.

J. W. MORRY, Buffalo, Oct. 1, 1881.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring.

I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one dollar's visit will cost. I know it."—A WORKINGMAN.

REPLY.

TO THE RATEPAYERS SIGNING ABOVE REQUISITION:—

GENTLEMEN:—I have to thank you for your Requisition to allow myself to be placed in nomination for Mayor at the approaching election.

The large number of names, which represent all classes of the community, has induced me to co-ply with the request, and in doing so, I consider it to be part of my duty to express my views briefly upon the more important questions which are likely to engage the attention of the Municipal Council during the coming year.

The most important, to my mind, is the drainage of the city; I am strongly in favor of immediate steps being taken to accomplish this, and will advocate and support the most efficient and economical scheme which may be submitted.

I am in favor of an equitable revision of the assessment roll.

I co.sider the electric light, as at present supplied, altogether inadequate, and will further any reform in this direction which may be considered necessary for the more efficient lighting of the city.

I will assist whatever well considered measure may be submitted, for the improvement of the water supply.

If elected, I shall always endeavor to promote the best interests of the city generally.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

R. P. RITHET.

GENTLEMEN:—We the undersigned Ratepayers of Victoria, request your permission to nominate you as Councillors to serve for James Bay Ward during the coming year.

There is a prevailing feeling that the coming Council should be composed of men of business capacity, capable of dealing with important issues, and we feel assured that the majority of ratepayers have confidence in your ability, public spirit and fitness for the position.

REPLY.

TO THE RATEPAYERS SIGNING THE ABOVE REQUISITION:—

GENTLEMEN:—In reply to your numerously signed requisition, asking us to accept your nomination as Councillors for James Bay Ward, we have much pleasure in acceding to it.

There will doubtless be many important matters to engage the attention of the Council, the question of drainage being one of the most prominent among them. We shall give our earnest attention and support to the consideration of a well devised system of sewerage, combined with efficiency and economy.

We consider the means at present adopted for lighting the city are most inadequate, and we shall give our attention towards an improvement in this connection.

As we are of opinion that the revenue of the city can be considerably augmented by a revision of the assessment roll, we shall advocate a readjustment of it at an early date.

The inefficient water supply in various parts of the city is, in our opinion, a matter which demands urgent attention.

If elected we shall support any measure brought forward tending to promote the good government of the city generally.
